Water Park Safety Guidelines

- You can enter the water park every hour after the safety instructions.
- All participants must have basic swimming skills.
- Age limits: The minimum age is 6 years. Children under 8 can enter the water park only with an 18-year-old supervisor (the supervisor must be with the child in the water park). For children aged 8-10, there must be a legal guardian who is constantly monitoring the child from the shore. An 11-year-old or older child can enter the park independently with the guardian's consent.
- All guests must accept the safety instructions and terms of service. By paying the ticket price, you commit to following the terms.
- Do not enter the water park if you are sick or under the influence of alcohol or other substances.
- Life jackets are mandatory for everyone.
- Remove sharp objects such as watches and large jewelry before entering the water park.
- Always exercise caution in the water park, considering your own skill level when choosing obstacles.
- Do not dive headfirst in the water park.
- Do not swim or dive under the parts of the water park, and do not flip the parts of the water park.
- Do not jump off the slide or other obstacles.
- A maximum of 5 people or 400 kg is allowed on one obstacle at a time.
- Always wait for your turn: when sliding down, jumping onto the jump pad, or climbing onto obstacles.
- Move promptly away from others.
- Maintain a distance of at least one meter from other users of the water park.
- The water park area is marked with yellow buoys. Do not go beyond the marked area.
- The water park is monitored by staff. If you see an accident, immediately call for help from the supervisor.
